Foreword

The Boomerang board presents this book hoping that it will be treasured as a keepsake by every High School student. Because our high school life should be full of happy times that we wish to remember, both graduate and under-graduate will find it a most valuable link with the past to renew those memories. Glancing over each page we will be reminded of those fundamentals taught us here, so that we can proudly say—

"I have no fear. What is in store for me
Shall find me ready for it
unafraid.
God grant my only cowardice
may be Afraid—to be afraid!"

Dedication

"It ain't the guns nor armament,"
Nor friends that one can pay,
But the close co-operation
That makes them win the day.

Every student knows the meaning of "hearty co-operation." It is through this alone, that any organization can make progress. We have among our faculty members one who is a loyal supporter of school activities, a faithful promoter of good citizenship, a teacher loved and respected by every student, who is always willing to give her best for the betterment of Holland High.

It is to Miss Mabel Anthony that the Boomerang of 1928 is respectfully dedicated.

Appreciation

The windmill of the Senior class of nineteen hundred twenty-eight has been working perpetually for an entire year. The millers, or the Seniors have labored zealously to make their final year in the mill a success, but, of course, without the aid of the lower class windmills, last year would not have ended so favorably. Not only the lower classmen, but the faculty members especially their patron and patroness, Mr. Leddick and Miss Anthony, have loyally given their support. With deep appreciation we extend our thanks to all who by their hearty enthusiasm have helped the millers keep the Senior sails in motion.

Faculty

Mr. Fell

For seventeen consecutive years Superintendent E. E. Fell has successfully controlled Holland's Public School System. He has worked with untiring effort for the good of both student and teacher. He has also created a close relationship between parents and teachers, a necessity for successful educational work.

Mr. Riemersma

For nine consecutive years Principal J. J. Riemersma, through his understanding and large-hearted sympathy with student life has won the admiration of faculty and student body. Through his encouragement and wise direction of student government, he has made education contribute to the development of character.

Class History

FOUR years ago the members of the present Senior class suddenly came to the realization that they had learned all that the grammar school could offer and were prepared, or supposed to be, for the High School. Miss Minnie K. Smith, their advisor, broke the sad news that the class was to be divided into two groups. The one group, of whom Willard Meengs was elected president, entered the high school building while the other group with Reo Marcotte as its leader journeyed to the new Junior High building.

This large group of individuals, known to the upper classmen as "just Freshmen" found high school life to be quite unique and full of variety for the first few weeks. They became very much enthused about the various school activities, especially athletics, and tried to do their bit for the school they were learning to love.

In September, 1925, the members of this class leisurely strolled back to the old familiar assembly room. The Junior and Senior High groups were recombined and many old friendships were renewed and as one large class, chose Willard Meengs as their president. Some of the boys made the athletic teams, and the class gradually edged its way into the social functions of the school. The politicians of the class watched with eagerness the work of the Student Council and took an active part in the caucus which occurred during the month of May.

In the fall of 1926, the classmates once more assembled—this year as Juniors. They chose Robert Notier as their president and immediately entered into the activities of the school, taking a leading part in many of them. The class was represented in the Student Council and thus officially helped the Seniors entertain the Sophomores at the annual Sophomore reception. They joined with the Seniors in a gala event called the Junior Senior party and showed that their ideas were not alone novel but also artistic. At election, many of the Juniors were elected to office, Adelia Beeuwkes being the first girl to be elected Mayor. They watched with eagerness the graduation of the Seniors and watched patiently for them to leave the school, so they might take upon themselves the title of "Seniors."

As "Dignified Seniors," this group of students returned to school in September of 1927. The Student Council immediately took upon itself the responsibility of organizing the Sophomore Class. For the third time they elected Willard Meengs to represent them in the Student Council as president of the class. On St. Patrick's Day they dressed in costume and gave their last assembly program. A Junior-Senior Party was enjoyed at the Literary Club rooms. On May eleventh, they took charge of the annual Caucus and one week later supervised the election. The Seniors seemed to be the social leaders of the school and with a little hesitancy gave this honor to the Juniors. They presented "The Admirable Crichton" as the Senior Play and started a fund for a new athletic stadium. In June, Mr. Riemersma, who had proved to be a true and faithful friend to the students during their four enjoyable years as High School students, gave the departing Seniors advice as to the future and diplomas for their past. Although graduation had been looked forward to by the students for a long time, it seemed very hard to leave dear "Old Holland High" never to return as students. Time may go on but the memories of High School and all it has meant to them will never be forgotten.

Senior Class Prophecy

ONE day as I was riding along a country road I saw a group of gypsies. They advertised a fortune teller. I had heard a great deal about these fortune tellers but I never had taken much stock in what they had to say. Having been appointed to write a prophecy for my class, the idea struck me to have her do it. I went to the old woman and put before her my proposition. Because gypsies are not in the business, she said she wouldn't undertake this task without sufficient money in advance. I paid the money from my own pocket! Then she was ready to tell me everything. She got out a crystal set on a little stand draped with several pieces of cloth of rather pretty design and shades. She made some queer gestures above the glass and at the same time mumbled some queer words. Since this fortune teller was a good actress, by the changes of expression on her face, she made the prophecy rather impressive.

Suddenly, her wrinkled face beamed with a look of satisfaction and she said she saw the group of students of which I had spoken. Then the scene changed and she saw many of the same people as they would be 30 years from now. It sounded wonderful and I was amazed at the things I learned. However, she went so fast that I was not able to understand what she said. I stopped her and told her to take one person at a time and be sure to mention each name distinctly. She said that this was very difficult and it could only be accomplished by a slightly larger fee for her services. Since I was in a hurry, I didn't argue but paid. At the sight of the money she began again. I grabbed my note book and jotted down the following:

"Ah—," she began, "I see a girl who is much interested in politics. I see many signs and posters. Many people are gathered around—let me see—ah—it is the city hall. Someone speaks, 'Miss Adelia Beeuwkes wins by a land slide. We are proud to announce that the next mayor of the city of Holland is the first woman to hold this office.'" Then she stepped back, gave a sign as if to regain her breath and again stepped before the crystal.

"Oh—what is this?" she mumbled after going thru the usual gestures. "Ah, now I see. It is a congregation of army men. General Jack Moore is making a speech. He is praising some aviator for—for—making the first non-stop flight across the Pacific. There is a tremendous crowd. I see a middle aged man—ah—it is Lindbergh. Now I see the aviator. They are pinning a medal upon his coat. It is Roger Leetsma, noted aviator. General Lindbergh, head of the aviation department of the U. S. Army is pinning the medal upon the tall flyer." She again stepped back with the same sigh.

Once more she approached the glass and gesturing said, "Now I see a former 'dog fancier,' musician and artist. He is, thirty years from now, leader of the American Legion Band of Holland, president of the city dog pound, and proprietor of the City Sign Company. It is Francis D. P. Van Hartesveld." Again she backed away with the usual sigh.

In an instant she was peering with fixed glance into the crystal. "I see now a great many savages, almost naked. They seem to be sick or wounded. There is something wrong with each one. They are gathered around a small building built of bamboo. Ah, there is a sign above the door. It reads, 'Roy Mooi, M. D., Medical Missionary.'" That seemed to be all to that picture.

In a few minutes she seemed to see another scene within the crystal ball. "I see a large and beautiful stadium. It is filled with people. They are yelling and screaming. Clarence Tysse, junior, has the ball. Coach Kenneth Sandy is chewing his gum vigorously. The stands are in an uproar, Captain Tysse has made a touchdown. I see a score board—Holland 51, Grand Haven 0—ah, the game is ended. The crowds are pouring out of the doors. I see a plaque upon the wall of the structure. It reads, 'Holland High School Stadium, Richard C. Robbins, architect.' There are many others attending this game. Among them is Reo J. Marcotte, M. D., the head of Mayo Brothers." That ended this dramatic scene.

She then said, "I see the auditorium of the new Holland High School with the Principal, Bernard Visscher, announcing that there will be a high school dance in the gymnasium on the following Saturday. There is a celebrated orchestra from New York booked to furnish the music. Jerry Houting, the well-known director, is to be present."

She again stepped to the glass and said, "There is the future world's heavy weight champion, Frank Tibbits, signing for a fight in Madison Square Garden in which he is to meet the leading contender for his crown, 'Longarm' Potts. Mr. William Cote is promoting the fight."

The next picture was that of one of our faculty members. She described this scene, saying, "The scene is laid in the beautiful opera house in Chicago. Mr. Milton Hinga appears as Sampson in the famous opera 'Sampson and Delilah!'" I regretted greatly not to be able to hear him burst into song but I was unable to from a crystal.

The next picture was set in Zeeland. After pausing for a while, she muttered, "It is the opening of the new Coolidge Theatre managed by Mr. Robert Notier. Mr. Willard Meengs is the stage manager while Marie Klies sells tickets. Mr. Louis Damstra and the Damstra players are appearing on the bill for the first week. They are to give 'Romeo and Juliet.' Mr. Damstra is taking the part of Capulet while Lucile De Pree is playing the part of Juliet, his daughter. The part of Romeo, the ardent lover, is upheld by Harold Kronemeyer.

By this time the old lady was getting rather tired and although she appeared to be trying hard, she didn't seem to be able to extract any more from the crystal. I thanked her kindly, put my note book in my pocket and went home very much satisfied with the happenings of the afternoon.

Class Will

WE, the Members of the Class of "28," realizing that our four years' term in this, our beloved H. H. S. is about to come to a close, do hereby, in due process of the law, bequeath the following properties and possessions with sincerest hopes that our beneficiaries may gain some good from them:

First of all, this Boomerang to be left as an example to future Boomerang boards.

Secondly, our well-kept seats to be given to the present Junior Class, hoping that they will care for them as we have.

The Freshman to be in charge of Gilbert Zigterman in hopes that he may become a Senior.

Frederic Kolenbrander's sociability to Lawrence Olinger.

Frank Tibbitts' fighting ability to John Donnelly.

Melvin Van Tatenhove's way with women to Preston Luidens.

Adelia Beeuwkes' office to the next Mayor.

Isabelle Zuber's hair to Mable VanDerBerg.

Jack Moore's singing ability to George DeBoer.

Clarence Tysse's athletic ability to his brother Jim.

Howard Wassenaar's $8.75 to Louis Elenbaas.

Herbert Wybenga's punting ability to Ed. Flanagan.

Francis Van Hartesveldt's musical ability to the next drum major.

Al. Gebben's Chevrolet to Evelyn Van Dyke.

Mary Margaret Vander Ven's affections to Bruce Van Leuwen.

Rudolph Nichols' basket-ball ability to Gerald Fairbanks.

Everett Potts' height to Melvin Essenberg.

Sander Kleis' gift of gab to Gordon Korstanje.

Albert Walters' running ability to Walter Winstrom.

Bill Meengs' managership of the stage to Jim Nettinga.

Orson Geegh's age to Chester Belt.

Care of the H. H. S. treasury to James Doan.

Henry Nyhoff's popularity with women to Marion McCoy.

Cornelius Den Besten's leadership to Jeanette Herman.

Louis Damstra's acting ability to the cast of the next Senior Play.

Hope Van Landegend's height to Wilma Kasten.

Miriam Vander Riet's calmness to Miss Hoekje.

Roy Mooi's Latin ability to Miss Geiger.

Kenneth Sandy's gift of his tuba to the band.

Elizabeth Winter's beauty to Ola Charter.

Bessie Schouten's pep to Caroline Hilarides.

Jerry Houting's yellmaster ability to Bob Dorian and Adrian Braamse.

Watson Spoelstra's wise cracks along with a year's subscription to the "Judge" to the joke editor of the "Maroon and Orange."

Bud Galentine's brute strength to Harold Tanis in hopes that it may be helpful in his football playing.

Bernard Keefer's "cake walk" to Bruce Van Leuwen and George De Boer.

Mary Ellen Byron's ability in art to Gertrude Smeenge and Jean Goldsmith.

David Van Dyke's all important air to Frederic Miles.

Guardianship of our dear teachers to be in charge of Mr. Fell, and of our janitors, Dorothy Tasker and Florence Grinwis.

The entire Holland High School to be left in charge of John J. Riemersma.

We leave our sincerest love to Dear Old H. H. S.

Drawn up this twelfth day of February in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight.

Junior Class

THE windmill of friendship and loyalty of the Junior Class began to slowly move its huge arms, through the aid of its tender, James Tysse. The spirit and enthusiasm of all its members resulted in a wind capable of making the sails go faster and faster, thus bringing the Junior Class on top.

In athletics our class has furnished some of the best material for football, basketball and track. With one more year to play for Holland High, no doubt these athletes will bring many more victories to the school.

Much talent for music has already been shown. This year one of our classmates took the leading part in the annual musical production. A large per cent of the members of the Senior High Glee Clubs are Juniors. One of the school cheer leaders is a Junior who is always ready with plenty of pep and vim to lead the student body in cheering.

How could any class with such co-operation now, be anything but a leader of all Senior Classes next year?

Everyone watch those sails of the windmill propel even more swiftly when we become Seniors. The officers of the mill may change but the happy co-operation of the millers will linger with them always.

Sophomore Class

WE, the present Sophomore Class of nineteen hundred and thirty, do hereby resolve to do our best to promote the school's activities." This has been the resolution of the Sophomore Class, and so far, we have followed it successfully.

Our representatives are found in almost all of the school organizations. What would the football and basketball teams do without the Sophomores? Our first teams as well as reserve teams are included. Several of our members are prominent in Glee Club work, one having had a leading role in the operetta, "Captain Crossbones," presented during the fall. The band and orchestras are made up mostly of under classmen. Many have joined various societies, thus helping to promote the social and literary organizations of our school. Our assembly programs, which contained a variety of stunts and miscellaneous numbers, have been enjoyed by the student body.

Because the present Sophomore Class is the largest class in Holland High's history, and because we loyally support all of the school activities, we show that we firmly believe in the Holland High School motto:

"The strength of the pack is the wolf,
The strength of the wolf is the pack."

Maroon and Orange

HOW many people realize that we have in our own high school one of the best school papers in the state, and one rated very highly in national circles? For the past two years the "Maroon and Orange" has held this distinction. The '27-'28 staff has worked very hard to uphold this reputation. Whether its work has been successful or not will depend on the rating in the coming contests. Nevertheless, under the direction and untiring efforts of the advisor, Miss Hanna G. Hoekje, the paper has advanced continuously.

New departments and features have been added to give the high school a better paper. The students have responded heartily, however, in subscriptions and also in special editions. Among the new features which made their appearance this year were new pictures and advertisement illustrations obtained through the High School Newspaper Service, of which we are now a member. Along with this, the new type and large nameplate gave the "Maroon and Orange" the appearance of a progressive newspaper.

The fine editions of the staff of '27 were capped by an exceptionally fine Christmas number, called the "Santa Special." Presented in magazine form, it was one of the cleverest, most pleasing and best editions ever put out in the high school.

Four members of the last year staff were honored by membership to the Quill and Scroll, national honor society for journalists.

Student Government

DURING the past year it has been proved that a woman is just as capable of performing the duties of Mayor as any man. For the first time in the history of Holland High School, a girl has attained the honor of becoming Mayor, although many girls have, in past years, entered the race.

The Council members have discharged their duties with zeal and enthusiasm. They have given much of their time and have done all in their power to better our school. However, the students did their part by showing true co-operation at all times.

As a result of the diligent work of the Police Board, the conduct of the students in and around the school building has been most respectful.

Some of the outstanding accomplishments of the Student Council were as follows:

The Sophomores were heartily welcomed to High School by a reception which was given under the auspices of the Council with Helen Sprietsma as General Chairman of the Committees.

The students adopted a Standard Class Ring and feel very satisfied with the results.

A design for a Holland High Service Key, which is to be presented to the Senior students receiving the highest number of Service Points each year, was adopted.

A Near East Relief drive was held and $81.60 collected by the various rows. A personal letter of appreciation was received from the State Director of this Board thanking the Student Body for their splendid contribution.

At the annual Christmas Day program, the wards presented baskets of food and clothing for some of Holland's needy families. This work was carried on under the supervision of the Council and the Faculty. A Sick Benefit Fund of $16.65 was presented to Miss Koertje for the payment of doctor bills for poor people.

Student Government is a success in Holland High School, but only through the united effort of the students and the Council. This is emphasized in our school motto: "The strength of the Pack is the Wolf; and the strength of the Wolf is the Pack."

The Boomerang Staff

"Ship ahoy! Where away? To Holland, Michigan."
"What's the cargo? A load of material for the Boomerang."

THE heavily ladened ship makes her way through the Great Lakes and finally to the channel at Macatawa Park through which she steams slowly and majestically towards her dock at Holland.

"Dock the ship," commands the captain. A hand line is thrown from the upper deck to a man on the dock and with it he hauls in the bow hawser and loops it over the stanchion. Likewise the stern hawser is placed. "Pull in the bow line," the mate orders. "Then pull in the stern line." The ship is slowly warped to the dock and again the captain commands, "Make the ship fast."

The gang plank is lowered, and all is orderly confusion. Passengers go ashore, hatches are opened and preparations are made to unload the freight consigned to the Boomerang.

First is a large crate labeled leadership forwarded by Miss Reeverts and Miss Nelson. This is the most highly prized portion of the shipment and was most carefully guarded during the voyage, for without the able and sympathetic leadership of these two faculty advisors, the Boomerang Board would be as helpless as a ship at sea without a rudder.

Next comes a tightly made box which is found to be advertising shipped by the Boomerang friends among mercantile and industrial leaders and professional men of Holland. The advertisers should "get their money's worth" and subscribers to the Boomerang are urged to look over the advertising columns to learn who they are and patronize them.

Here comes a small box but quite important looking. It is marked "Profits from Magazine Campaign." Inspection of the contents discloses proceeds from the first attempt to raise money for the Boomerang other than by means of advertising and subscriptions. While the success of the enterprise was not so startling as had been hoped for, further attempts will, no doubt, be more productive.

The fourth box is "handle with care," and well it might be, for it contains valuable information, photos and finger prints, of every member of the faculty and the three classes of the Senior High School. The shipping tag on another crate indicates that the contents are "Activities." Upon opening it at the Boomerang warehouse, it is found to contain a most interesting and unusual record of no less than seventeen school organizations.

The Boomerang Board submits the results of its labors and hopes it will meet with the approval of the reader:

Welfare Board

WHAT is meant by the Welfare Board? Go to any student who has been ill or bereaved during the past year and he will answer you without hesitancy. He will tell you how much the Welfare Board has meant to him as the representative of the High School. It is a great pleasure to know that you are missed and your school is thinking of you. How much a bouquet of flowers can help pass the time is shown by the tokens of appreciation that are received. They send not only flowers but also fruit, letters and cards. The sick always welcome a visit from them. "Say it with flowers" is indeed the motto of the Welfare Board.

The chairman looks through the records in the principal's office and notes the names of the students who have been absent for more than a week. It surely is a pleasure to be a member of this board and know that through your work you can give courage and cheer to a fellow student.

Literary Board

PRACTICALLY every student in Holland High School enjoys a good program once in a while. Perhaps you may wonder whose duty it is to compose and arrange in schedule the programs which are given in the Assembly Room once a week. To plan and take care of this is the work of the Literary Board.

Through the willingness and co-operation of the various organizations, clubs, societies and classes, these programs are made possible. Most of the organizations have been given a chance to present two programs, one each semester. Talents and pep have been displayed in various beneficial and interesting manners.

"The Old Maids' Convention," a play given by the Kappa Delta Society, represented the spinsters of yesterday transformed into the maids of today. "Maggie," an original play of boarding school life, written by Gertrude Smeenge, was presented by the Athletic Sisters. The Commercial Club gave "Keeping Father at Home," Sigma Chi, "Not Quite Such a Goose," Athenaeum, "The Silk Merchant." Besides these plays, Blue Triangle presented "The Birds' Christmas Carol" as a part of the Christmas program. Several pantomimes with appropriate lighting, scenery and dress, accompanied by music and song, gave the desired spirit of the Christmas season.

Not all the programs can be discussed here but beyond a doubt each one which has been given has helped to break the monotony of studying, besides making school life in general more interesting.

Police Board

STUDENT Government has been making great progress during past years, but it is evident that this year Holland High School has attained a higher standard than ever before.

The laws of every government are made for the protection of the people as a whole, against a certain few who do not know how to conduct themselves in an orderly manner. Because we know that Student Government required the existence of a Police Board which consists of the Chief of Police and four officers. It is their duty to enforce the ordinances of the school and to keep order in the building. If a student violates an ordinance he is warned by an officer. If, after the warning, he does not obey, the officer makes complaint to the Chief of Police. The Chief then swears out and serves a warrant on the student reported who is tried before the private court, which consists of the Chief of Police, the Mayor, and the principal of the school. The punishment is determined according to the crime. In case of a second offense, the offender is tried before the Council, thus the punishment is much more severe.

Fire drills are also conducted by the Police Board. Definite instructions for leaving the building are given to the students in the beginning of the year. Usually the building is cleared in fifty-eight or fifty-nine seconds.

Park Board

BECAUSE the first impression formed in a person's mind is usually a lasting one, much has been and is being done to beautify the grounds and the building representing the Holland High School. This task is alotted to the Park Board, which in its work of the past year, has tried to live up to expectations. The object is not only to keep up but improve the appearance of the school grounds.

This year many obstacles which in previous years confronted the board have not been encountered. Bicycles were a nuisance in former years, but the past year showed a decrease in popularity of that vehicle.

The Park Board appreciates the fine spirit of co-operation shown by all the students in that no paths were worn across the lawn and very little shrubbery destroyed. No unsightly stakes and wires were necessary this year to keep students on the walks to prevent the destruction of the good appearance of the grounds.

The planting of shrubbery and the general beautifying of the grounds is under the joint direction of the members of this organization and the Biology Department. The board also co-operates with the Biology Department in the Arbor Day program of planting and has endeavored to arouse a spirit of civic pride in the student body regarding their surroundings.

Public Improvement Board

THE first glimpse one gets of a building will influence the impression that remains. Although the Public Improvement Board has just recently been organized, it has already been of great service to Holland High School. It has proved its value by making the first glimpse of our school suitable and the impression lasting.

The board has met several times during the year. At these meetings various things for the improvement and progress of our school have been suggested. They were presented to the principal and student council who have considered them carefully.

The members of the Board wish to thank our capable leader for his help during the year. We also extend our appreciation to the students of the school for the unusually fine spirit of co-operation shown. It is only through united effort that our school may continue to be neat, attractive and orderly. Co-operation means service and success for Holland High School.

Debating Class

THE Debating Class work of this year is an innovation in the Holland High School curriculum. It is still in the formative period, being first advocated by Mr. Rolland Maybee, former debating coach, and instituted this year under the direction of Mr. Walter Richardson, who succeeded Mr. Maybee. Although class work in debating is new to our school system, it may establish a precedent for the future. It has an advantage over club work in that it gives an opportunity for the student who has no particular desire to make the team to learn the rudiments of the subject and to become acquainted with its technique.

From the members of the class the debating team was selected. Much of their research and investigation on the state question was done in class, but discussion and practice was carried on after school hours. Quite a number of the students participated in public debates. Adelia Beeuwkes, Willard Meengs and Marion McCoy each appeared in one debate. Lois Marsilje took part in three, Margaret Ver Burg in two, and Alice Boter in all the contests. Alice Boter, of last year's squad, acted as captain in all the debates and won quite a reputation as a fluent speaker and skilled debater. The other members of the team, with the exception of Lois Marsilje, had had no previous experience whatsoever, but they made rapid progress and in different instances showed good judgment and courage in upholding the standards of their school.

The state question was, "Resolved, That the Direct Primary System of Nominating Candidates for Public Office in the United States Should be Abolished." Although three of the four state scheduled debates were lost by slight margins, the contests were close and interesting.

Lewa Camp Fire

THE Lewa Camp Fire group which was organized three years ago, is planning much for the future. Some may ask, "What is there about these girls that we call Camp Fire Girls that makes them different from other girls?"—for Camp Fire Girls are different from other girls. There is a spring to their step, a lift to their heads, a light in their eyes that communicates a purpose and a joy in living that cannot be found in all girls. Camp Fire gives friends just as it tests the power of friendship. Camp Fire gives fun, glorious fun out of doors and in doors. Camp Fire gives hills, purple hills far off for dreaming, and green and golden hills close by for climbing, and moreover, it gives them strength for climbing.

The Lewa Camp Fire is composed of twenty girls who in the eleventh and twelfth grades are doing all they can for good old Holland High by living up to the Camp Fire Law which is, "Seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold on to health, glorify work and be happy."

Miss Ethel Dykstra, taking the place of Miss Todd, has captured their hearts and instilled a pep and enthusiasm in the meetings which are held at her home every two weeks.

The Lewa Camp Fire is planning to spend a week at Camp Kewano Wohelo, a peppy camp at Ottawa Beach. They are also planning many other parties. Watch these girls!

Blue Triangle

HERE she comes with middy and skirt, blue tie, and triangular emblem on her middy sleeve. Yes, she's a Girl Reserve. Every other Tuesday you will see her, showing her colors and advertising her club. She's proud of them and what they stand for, friendly companionship, healthful recreation, spiritual uplift and jolly good times.

This year this happy girl has found special interest in the club. There were the beach parties, hikes, the Thanksgiving pot-luck, and the Christmas program. She also enjoyed entertaining the high school in an unusually fine and impressive Christmas assembly program. Yes, and she's been busy in her special group, for Blue Triangle this year is running on a permanent conference plan with special interest groups in dramatics, hand crafts, social etiquette and recreation. She is very enthusiastic about this new plan and hopes it may be continued next year with still greater success.

Perhaps this is her Senior year but the refrain will ever ring in her ears to remind her of her happy high school days.

Hi-Y

THE Hi-Y of this year gives life to its annual landscape as it sails along its picturesque canal of Fellowship, which gradually broadens out until it empties into the Sea of World Brotherhood in which every branch of the Y. M. C. A. is interested.

One of the prominent windmills in the Landscape, which makes this a notable year is the office of fifth Vice President of the Twenty-fifth Annual Older Boys' Conference at Kalamazoo held by Marion McCoy. This honor was held by Jacob Pelon three years previous.

The Bi-monthly meetings were well attended by a large group of boys all seeking the triangular needs of physical, mental and moral strength.

Commerce Club

STUDENTS of Holland High School:

Do you know that the Commerce Club has been especially progressive this year? Meetings, at which we enjoyed each others' friendship and shared our study of business life, were held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Sometimes the programs consisted of musical numbers, business talks, games and humorous selections. On other evenings we were greatly profited by talks given by former high school students. They told us in a very interesting manner about their experiences in the business world.

For our Assembly Program during the first semester we gave a one-act play entitled "Keeping Him Home," in which the students saw a true-to-life romance and the second semester we were extremely fortunate in securing Mr. Brandt who entertained us with a musical program.

We are hoping that the Commerce Club will continue with still greater progress during coming years.

Yours in the interest of Holland High,
Members of the Commerce Club.

State High School Shorthand and Typewriting Contest

HOLLAND High School won first place in the District Contest which was held at Muskegon on April 28. At this contest seven schools competed. Holland entered thirteen students. The winners of the first two places in each event were entitled to enter the State Contest at Kalamazoo, on May 19.

At the State Contest one hundred eighty-three contestants from sixty-one high schools competed for medals and three pennants. Battle Creek High School won first place in the state with thirty-three points, and Holland High, second, scoring thirty-two points. Wyandotte won third.

The Holland students entered in the State Contest were: Margaret De Groot, Marie Kleis, Roselle Kuite, Marion Luidens, Mary Matchinsky, Bernice Van Spyker and Isabelle Zuber. Roselle Kuite won the gold medal for first year shorthand and Isabelle Zuber the silver medal for second year shorthand. The other students helped in winning points so that our school won the second place pennant.

Art Club

THE STUDY of Art possesses this great and peculiar charm, that it is absolutely unconnected with the struggles and contests of ordinary life." It is for this reason, possibly, that so many people do not seem to understand it. Art gives to the student something that cannot be found in all sciences, namely, a chance to create and express new ideas.

For a group of people striving for the same goal, more can be accomplished if they are organized into a well regulated body. Co-operation and not competition is the thing that counts now. This has proven to be true especially in the Art Club. It is one of the newer organizations and very active. At the beginning of the school term last September, the Club reorganized and revised its charter whereby it may be changed from year to year. Under this plan the membership has increased and much enthusiasm exists among all.

To further the development of an appreciation for art, the Club has sponsored many excellent exhibits during the scholastic year. It is its object and desire to follow the works of the countries' best and most noted artists.

A true appreciation emerges as the result of creative experiences; and until the student in the academic atmosphere is afforded opportunity of engaging in truly creative experiences, his judgment of the values related to Art will be both false and superficial.

Home Economics Club

THE Home Economics Club, although in its first year of existence, promises to do many big things in connection with home problems. Its aim is to establish a closer bond between the home and Home Economics.

Family relationships, as the relation of the child to the home — the relation of the child to his parents and problems in family discipline will be taken up.

These topics will be taken up in interesting ways, as debates, speakers and informal discussions.

When the club becomes a member of the National Home Economics Association it will be one of a large family of similar clubs, thereby being able to receive benefits from its sister organizations as well as being inspired to give the best in return.

The Club hopes to prove true to its slogan —

"Something for home — something for our community and something for ourselves."

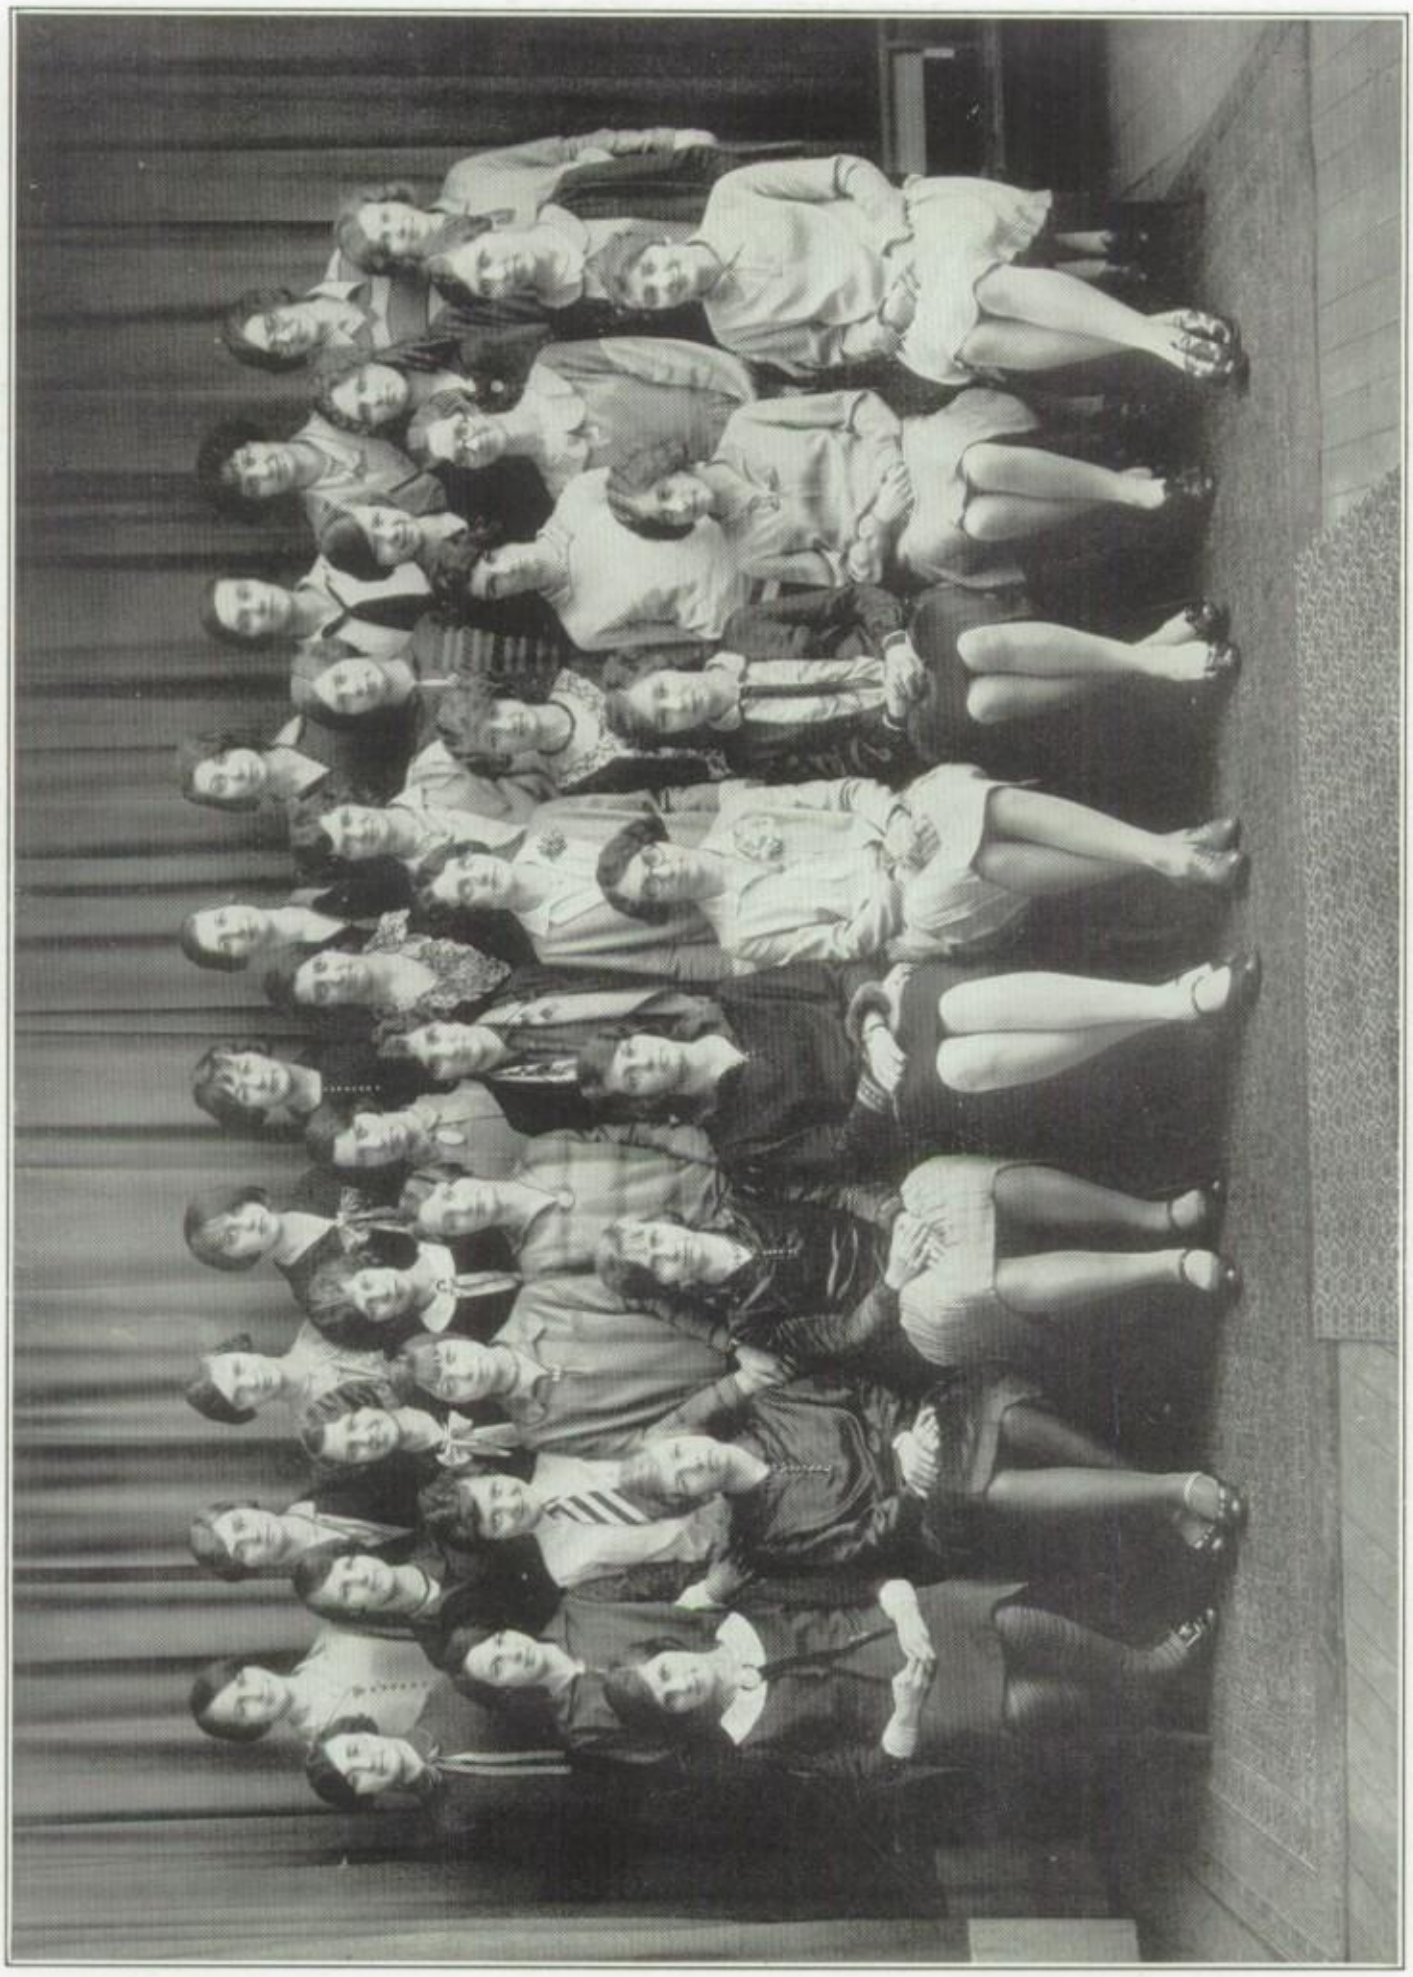
KAPPA DELTA



SIGMA CHI

Kappa Delta

KAPPA DELTA, the oldest girls' literary society in Holland High School, has had another very successful year. This has been due both to the girls and to our patronesses, Miss Anthony and Miss Van Dyke.

The programs have been especially entertaining and instructive. There has been a great deal of talent displayed, making it very seldom necessary to have outside entertainers. "Kap" also attained the high honor of having over fifty per cent of its members on the Honor Roll.

The activities this year have been numerous and varied. Besides the regular bi-monthly meetings of the society, a Christmas Party was held by the three girls' societies of H. H. S., a society dance was given, a small sum of money was donated to the Near East Relief Fund, and a successful assembly program, "The Old Maid's Convention," was given and later repeated. Another high spot in the Kappa Delta year will be the Annual Banquet.

The Seniors will always cherish among their memories the friendships which have been cemented in "Kap."

Sigma Chi

THE SIGMA CHI literary society has shown much advancement along literary lines. Various reports on interesting topics have been given as a part of each program following a well organized business meeting.

Our society has been an inspiration to each of us and has helped to create in us a spirit of loyalty to our school and each other. Although we have worked very hard we feel that one of the things that has helped us most has been the helpfulness and companionship of our patronesses, Miss Vrany and Miss Ruth Mulder.

It is said that one gets out of a thing as much as one puts into it. Because we have found this to be true, we have enjoyed many good times which include our semi-monthly programs, a joint meeting with Kappa Delta and Phi Beta, a Valentine party and sleigh-ride.

We can truly say, "This has been the best year ever!" and look forward to many more good times in Sigma Chi.

PHI BETA

Phi Beta Literary Society

THE PHI BETA Literary Society has enjoyed its third successful year under the leadership of the very able patronesses, Miss Zwemer and Miss Geiger.

Phi Beta girls believe in play as well as in work. During the year they held a Kindergarten party for the girls of the school. At Christmas they joined the other societies in a rousing good get-together.

The first assembly program of the new year, given by the Phi Beta girls, was well received.

The programs of the regular meetings are planned so that they may instill in the minds of the members the four ideals of the society. These are contained in the pledge of the society, taken by the new members each year:

For Perfection all of us will strive,
For the Beautiful we all will seek,
As Lovers of Books which will helpful be
We'll improve Phi Beta day by day
And so we are sure to make it pay.
Then eager for Service we'll serve our best
And be true, loyal members of P. B. L. S.

The Dnalloh Hgih Literary Society

IN THE course of a students' school life there are many things which act as diversion. Of these probably the most important is society life. A society gives the student a chance to show his ability in any line he chooses, besides providing an interesting entertainment on varied occasions.

The Dnalloh Hgih Literary Society has always held the highest ideals and we believe is becoming better and fulfilling its purpose as a society more each year. The regular addition of new material has kept up this spirit. This year's new members have not lacked their share of desire for activity and the society is in better condition than it has been for several years.

The weekly programs prepared by an efficient Vice President have been varied and comprehensive, providing information and entertainment. The programs have usually been given by society talent, but on several occasions interested friends, alumni or members of the faculty have contributed to these meetings.

Much credit for this year's success is due the officers.

ATHENAEUM

Athenaeum

THE ATHENAEUM Literary Society celebrates its fifth anniversary this year. For five years the members of the society have striven to uphold the following standards set as the aim of the society by its founders: To further literary interest, to promote good fellowship, and to develop student social life.

The members of the Athenaeum Society are Senior High School students, including athletes, scholars, school leaders, and musicians whose scholastic standing averages "C" or above.

Some time during each semester the society produces an assembly program. A play was given in the first semester named "Action," which certainly carried out the theme suggested by its title. The Athenaeum fellows always try to present an interesting program under the direction of their patron, Mr. Bennett.

Entertainment and fun also form a part of the society's activities. Dances are held during the winter, but spring brings the genuine joy season. Then is held the annual banquet and dance, and the society "Stag," when all the members who possibly can, turn out for a night at the lake and three always-to-be-remembered meals.

The school year, 1927-'28, has been a remarkable one in the annals of the A. L. S. We are looking forward to next year and a more complete furtherance of our purpose.

The National Honor Society

"TO RAISE the standard of scholarship, to promote talent for leadership, to stimulate a desire to render service, and to foster the development of characters in the pupils of Holland High School" is the purpose of the National Honor Society as set forth in its constitution. Only as it helps to permeate the atmosphere of our school with these ideals, is the society fulfilling its mission. The honor bestowed upon the individual students is incidental.

There is no definite program of activity but an earnest effort is put forth to make each member feel his personal responsibility to be an influence for good among his fellow students.

Only Seniors who rank in the upper fourth of the class in scholarship are eligible to membership. Of this upper fourth, a limited number, not exceeding fifteen per cent of the class, are chosen by the faculty. Service, leadership, and character are the other qualities considered in making the selection.

The torch, the emblem of the organization, symbolizes achievement, aspiration, and purity as they are found in growth in wisdom, passion for service, and beauty of character, and challenges the members to lead others in the quest for the true and the beautiful.

Although the Holland Chapter has been in existence only since the spring of 1923, already many of its members have become outstanding leaders in college and are using their superior scholarship not as an end in itself but as a means for the achieving of greater service and usefulness.

Music

Girls' Glee Club

IN THE beginning of the school year, Miss Moore, who for the past few years has been directing our Glee Clubs, selected twenty-seven girls whom she thought most able to represent Holland High School in the district contest. These girls can be heard practicing during school hours on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and on Monday and Thursday evenings. Miss Moore has spent a great deal of time and hard work training each voice so as to obtain the best results.

To the public, both Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs presented the operetta, "Captain Crossbones," in the fall and gave a free concert during the winter. They have sung for many of the Senior and Junior High School programs, and on Sunday evenings in many of the churches in Holland.

Considering the progress made by the club during the past year, Holland High can look forward to good work next year.

Boys' Glee Club

"CAPTAIN CROSSBONES," the comic operetta by Penn, was given twice by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs in the High School auditorium during the first semester.

Miss Moore, who has been in charge of the music department for several years, has always given much of her time and energy to Glee Club work. Each year, through contests, enthusiasm for these clubs increases.

In September, twenty-four boys, considered best fitted to represent Holland High School at the annual district contest to be held at Kalamazoo, were selected. This number exceeds last year's club membership by four.

Instead of meeting in the evening from 6:30 to 7:30 as was the custom in past years, the boys practise during the second school period three times a week. This change in schedule not only is more convenient but also more satisfactory in that much more can be accomplished during that time.

Senior High Orchestra

THE school has purchased two new instruments, a flute and a cello, which are loaned to students who prove themselves worthy and capable of the privilege of learning to play the instrument with the view of joining the orchestra as soon as they are able to play sufficiently well. It is hoped that more instruments may be purchased, so that we may add to the balance of our orchestra, and thus improve it in quality as well as quantity.

The orchestra has spent many hours of diligent practice, preparing for the concert given by the Music Department of the High School, and other public performances.

BAND
HOLLAND HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Band

"Hats off! Along the street there comes
The flare of bugles and ruffle of drums."

IN just such a manner as this the High School Band parades down the street. Every student should and willingly does take his hat off to the band. The band has done more to maintain the pep of the students than any other factor. It also, more than anything else excepting the competence of the teams and of the coach, has done more to promote the success of athletics in High School.

Due to the departure of many senior members, the band was handicapped at the beginning of the year. Through the excellent leadership of Mr. Van Vyven, the practically new band enjoyed a full season of startling success. At all of the football and basketball games as well as at many other school and community activities, the band supplied an abundance of music.

19 - Football - 27

THIS year every football game was a real battle. The score book shows that we won four games, lost three, and tied three. At the beginning of the season, Coach Hinga did not know what the prospect of the season would be, but he knew one thing, that if the fellows would fight, and fight hard the team would be a success. In no game was the team defeated by more than one touch-down. Under the leadership of Clarence Tysse the team won the respect of all of its opponnts.

Football Reserves

CONSIDERING the amount of new material, mostly freshmen and sophomores, the reserve football squad enjoyed a successful season. Under the coaching of Mr. Chapman, they won five out of eight games played. Because so many lower classmen learned the fundamentals of the game, the team deserves much credit. Undoubtedly many of the fellows will have chances for the first team next year. The squad gave the big Muskegon seconds a good run which ended with a count of 12-0 for the "Muskies." Holland usually has one of the best reserve teams in this part of the state.

First Team Basketball

ANOTHER basketball season is ended and another set of victories and defeats has been marked in the score book, but the season has meant more to the players and school than just scores. This year as well as in years passed, Holland's basketball team has won the respect of all its opponents.

There were only four seniors on the squad this year: Captain Elenbaas, Dalman, C. Tysse and Houting, while those back next year are: Tanis, Jappinga, Korstanje, J. Tysse, Norlin, Bonnett and Zigterman. J. Nettinga, Van Kolken and Van Zanten of the reserve squad also look like promising material.

The season opened with a defeat by St. Joseph and another the following week by Muskegon. The next three games were victories from Muskegon Heights, Kalamazoo Central and Grand Rapids South. On Friday the thirteenth of January, Holland was defeated by Grand Haven but defeated W. S. T. C. High of Kalamazoo the week following and lost the next game to Benton Harbor. The first week-end in February was very successful, winning from Kalamazoo Central on Friday and St. Joseph on Saturday. The next three games were defeats from Grand Rapids South, Grand Haven and W. S. T. C. High, but in the last home game the Hinga coached outfit swamped Grand Rapids Catholic Central.

In the Regional elimination tournament at the Grand Rapids South Gymnasium, Holland was defeated in the first game by Grand Rapids Creston, in a very close contest, which took two overtime periods to decide the winner. The game was very interesting, the half ending 9-9; the third quarter 12-12; the game 15-15; the first overtime 17-17 and at last the final score 21-17, but not for Holland.

Three of the home games, including the one with Grand Haven, were spoiled because of the slippery armory floor. Nevertheless, the season was very interesting, most of the games ending with a close score. The team played a very hard schedule, sometimes playing two games in the same week.

Reserve Basketball

IF the reserve basketball team had finished the season the way it started, the record would have been perfect. The first six games were won in succession.

At the opening of the season Coach Chapman had only new material but with a few weeks of practice he developed a fine team. The reserves play a very important part in our athletics because from the second team the first squad is taken.

The season's records were good. Only four out of fourteen games were lost. Two games were won from Grand Rapids South; one from Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Ottawa Furniture Company, and Grand Rapids Catholic Central. The team "broke even" with Grand Haven, Kalamazoo Central, St. Joseph and Western State Teachers' High.

Holland usually has one of the best reserve teams in this part of the state. Every one knows that Mr. Chapman always turns out a real team. Next year many of our scrub athletes will be promoted to the varsity squad. With all but two regular first team members back, a real fight for positions will take place. Holland should have some very good material for beginning next year's season.

Track

THREE years ago, Coach Hartman started our first track team. Since that time the various teams have won places in the regional and state meets.

In 1927 the season started with an Inter-Class Meet in the High School "gym," which the seniors won. Although this was not very important, some very fine indoor records were made.

Holland won the dual meet with Allegan at Allegan, 68-57. A triangular meet with Grand Rapids South and Grand Haven was held the following week at Grand Haven, which South won by three points. For the first time competing in Class A, Holland went to Kalamazoo to attend a state invitational meet. Later in the same city, a regional meet was held to decide upon the qualification of the state meet to be held at East Lansing. Holland qualified and the following week went to East Lansing. The team also went to Ann Arbor.

Holland's track team has also won the interest of the school. Although this year was the first time letters were given for track, eight men received them. A total of 150 points was made during the season.

Athletic Board

AS long as our athletics are carried on without any conflicts, our athletic board is not very active. However, when questions arise concerning the place of a contest, the illegal appointment of a captain, or the difficulty in seating the spectators, the athletic board is called upon to decide. This year the schedules were so well arranged that the board was not very active. One of the important things decided upon was whether or not our G. R. Catholic Central game was to be played in the local armory or our high school gymnasium because of the slippery armory floor. It was decided to play in the armory as usual.

The board consists of the mayor, treasurer, the coaches, managers, and the Principal, the mayor acting as the presiding officer.

Athletic Sisters

ONCE again the old cry of "Hot Dogs!" "Chewing Gum!" "Frost Bites!" was heard throughout the entire football and basketball season. The Athletic Sisters were busily employed selling these things to raise money for better athletic equipment. The new basketball suits were part of the donation the "sisters" made to the high school this year.

After the football season was over a Treasure Hunt and a good "feed" at the Green Mill were given to the basketball and football teams. On August thirtieth the girls attended the wedding of Miss Dorothy Todd, their former patroness, and Ranald Fell in Grand Rapids. Later, the new Athletic Sisters entertained the old members with a slumber party at Boter's cottage. All reported good eats, much sleep? and a wonderful time.

Their talent was displayed in the original assembly program in which they presented "Maggie," a three act musical comedy written by Gertrude Smeenge, one of their own members. Margaret Van Leuwen took the leading part in this play.

MAJOR CHARACTERS

Senior Play

"IT certainly was well played!" "Wasn't the stage setting of the second act clever?" "Don't you think the characters performed as though they lived their parts?" and like expressions were heard from the lips of young and old as the curtain of the final act was drawn on the Senior Play. "The Admirable Crichton" was presented on four successive evenings and each night of performance was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience.

Crichton, played by Louis Damstra, was an exceptional butler who loved his master, Lord Loam, alias Reo Marcotte, but wished to change certain ideas of his as to equality. Upon the shipwrecked isle, Adelia Beeuwkes as Lady Mary, fell in love with Crichton but everything was changed upon rescue and return to England. Watson Spoelstra as Honorable Ernest Wooley and Francis Van Hartesveldt as Lord Brocklehurst, kept the audience in laughter from start to finish. Catherine and Agatha, namely Marie Kleis and Vera Van Duren, played their parts exceptionally well as did Roy Mooi as Treherne and Winona Peterson as Lady Broklehurst. Margaret Van Leuwen as Tweeny won many admirers by her pleasing manners. Thirteen minor characters worked faithfully in making the play realistic. One-half of the proceeds were presented toward a stadium fund while the remaining half was used for beautifying the school building. Miss Anthony and the play cast deserve much credit for the success of four consecutive performances.

Junior High

Miss Minnie K. Smith

EVERY student of Junior High has experienced Miss Smith's gentle thoughtfulness for each individual. Many have discovered her firm demand of obedience, which has made our beautiful Junior High building the scene of almost perfect conduct and orderliness. This influence extends to Senior High School through the new Sophomores, constantly entering the nalls of Senior High each semester.

After all, are not Junior and Senior High one school, separated only by a block as far as location goes? Classes of the two buildings pass from one to the other, a single auditorium serves both, and teachers in one building have pupils from the other. The bond seems still closer when we consider that the Freshman Class has its headquarters in Junior High. Just who is it who makes it possible for these two schools to be so closely united? Our principles, Miss Smith and Mr. Riemersma, are responsible for this. May they serve our dear schools many more years!

Junior High Republic

THE third year of its student government has been very successful for Junior High School. A spirit of hearty co-operation prevailed throughout the year.

Red Cross boxes were sent to many parts of the world. Fifteen dollars and seventeen cents was collected and given to Mrs. Hofsteen. At Thanksgiving time several baskets were filled with food and sent to many families of Holland. A beautiful Christmas tree which was decorated by the Junior High Officers added to the good cheer of the season.

During the year two plays, "Raspberry Red," and "Fair Play" were given by the ninth grade classes. The proceeds were used for Junior High basketball suits and for a beautiful memorial.

Several amendments and corrections were made to the Constitution. All eighth graders are now eligible to hold office. Police officers now hold their offices for the full school term. The police force, organized by the Chief of Police, John Nystrom, with the aid of Mr. Chapman, did its duty faithfully.

An assembly was held nearly every week during the year. The programs were very ably prepared by the home rooms.

Freshman Class

THE Class of '31 is anxiously waiting for September when it will add about one hundred and seventy members to Senior High.

The class has developed wonderfully along scholastic, athletic, and social lines. The high record the members have attained in scholarship is one that cannot easily be surpassed. They are interested in Student Government and have proved to be some of the most capable leaders that have ever helped to advance the Junior High Republic. In athletics, those who have not actively taken part, have been loyal supporters and rooters. The large attendance at the mid-winter party and the enthusiasm displayed there show their interest in social affairs.

The class hopes to develop more fully along these phases of school life and wishes to become the most loyal one that has ever entered Holland High.

Junior High Orchestra

THE Junior Orchestra is composed of seventh, eighth and ninth grade students. For most of these students, the Junior Orchestra affords the first opportunity for ensemble playing. Considering this fact, the school is proud of the progress made during the year.

The orchestra holds its rehearsals in the morning at 7:15 o'clock, twice a week, under the direction of Miss Kutschinski.

During the past year, several public appearances have been made, among which were the program for "Junior High Night," the W. C. T. U. assembly and various Parent-Teacher meetings.

Following is the instrumentation of the orchestra:

VIOLINS
- Preston Bos
- Harold McIntyre
- Charles Dalman
- Elizabeth Norlin
- Reakus Ryzenga
- Vernon Reidsma
- Verna Van Dort
- Lucia Ayres
- Melvin Scheerhorn

Junior High Girls' Glee Club

THE Junior High Girls' Glee Club is composed of fifty voices. Any girl in the Junior High music classes is allowed to "try out" in the beginning of the school year in September. At that time Miss Moore selects those which she thinks will best represent the school in this organization.

At the present time the girls are preparing an operetta, "Rings in the Sawdust," to be given on April, the twenty-sixth.

It is the aim of the Junior High Glee Club to prepare the members for the Senior Glee Club. Because of the unusual success during this year, a better Senior Glee Club is expected in the future.

Junior High Basketball

BASKETBALL is the most outstanding sport in which Junior High students take part, since they have neither a football nor track team. At the opening of the season, Coach Hartman faced a very hard schedule with only "green" material. All of his last year men entered Senior High. The squad this year consists of eighth and ninth graders with five men returning next year.

Many of the games were very interesting. The team won from Zeeland Juniors and the M. E. Sunday School, lost two games to the strong Muskegon Junior High, and two to the Junior High Alumni. They "broke even" with Grand Rapids Lee High Reserves and Christian High Reserves.

With only two nights a week practise the team developed exceptionally well, giving some good material for the reserve squad of next year. Mr. Hartman has had remarkable success with his teams. Although they did not win every time, he taught the Junior High lads the fundamentals of the game.

ABILITY PLUS

Earl Francomb applied for a job at a power plant.

"What can you do?" asked the chief.

"Almost anything, sir," said Earl.

"Well," said the chief, a bit of a joker, "you seem to be all right, could you wheel out a barrow of smoke?"

"Sure, fill it up for me," quickly replied Earl.

Watson Spoelstra: "You ought to see the new altar in our church."
Virginia Coster: "Lead me to it."

THE AMERICAN ABROAD

An American happened to be in Sicily during an eruption of Etna.
"You've nothing like that in America, have you?" said the Italian friend of his with pride.
"No," replied the visitor, "we haven't but we've got Niagara Falls and they'd put that feazing thing out in five minutes."

Miss Van Dyke: "Kenneth, how would you punctuate this sentence: 'The wind blew a ten-dollar bill around the corner.'?"
Kenneth G.: "I'd make a dash after the bill."

SONG ENTITLED

"I call my girl Hazel, when I'm with her I feel so nutty."

ON A DUE, DUE, DUEIE DAY

Jean W.: "What makes your car so wet?"
Bud G.: "There's so much (due) on it."

SONG ENTITLED

"I made a plea for bread and the curtain came down with a roll."

JUSTICE?

"We find the man who stole the mare, not guilty, your honor," said the foreman of the Irish jury.

YES, THAT'S TRUE

Mr. Maybee: "Why is it so easy to get married and so hard to get a divorce?"
Mr. Chapman: "You have to have a reason for a divorce."

BETTER GARGLE

Jack Moore: "There's money in my voice."
Marie Kleis: "Yes, I heard something rattle."

HOT DOGS

Everett Potts: "I have musical feet."
Bud Galentine: "Yeh, two flat."

PATRIOTISM

Dear Janet:-

Ain't we got fun? You tell 'em. Don't forget our nice chats together at noon. We surely have fun then, don't we? I think we talk a little too much sometimes. Some kids know too much of our affairs, don't you think so?

Well anyhow maybe this summer we'll both have fun. Let's hope so. Maybe some night I'll see you in that nice little blue — I won't say any more about it wouldn't be fair would it? Well tonight we can study for our exams. Hope you'll have a good time on your birthday.

With my best wishes,

Your loving friend,

Janette

Don't Spoil Your Teeth That Way!

YOU visit your dentist regularly: you choose your dentifrice carefully; you brush your teeth faithfully—And then, perhaps, you spoil it all by using an old-fashioned, inefficient tooth brush with which you couldn't possibly brush your teeth thoroughly.

Don't run that risk. Let us show you a scientifically correct, modern tooth brush, designed to make thorough brushing easy. It's the San-Tox SCIENTIFIC TOOTH BRUSH.

A small brush, slightly outcurved, with projecting end-tuft and widely spaced, pointed bristle-rows—all the features which dental authorities insist upon. You will be delighted with the ease with which this brush cleans all the surfaces of all the teeth. The hard-to-reach places, the danger spots, can't escape it.

This fine tooth brush is only one of many good reasons for visiting our store. There are lots of other excellent San-Tox requisites for toilet, health, and hygiene—sold exclusively by us.

We Wish Our Shoes Were Made of Glass

Sometimes we wish our shoes really were made of glass, like Cinderella's slipper of long ago, so that you could see the little differences of workmanship that spell the difference between a good shoe, and one that merely looks good.

Our shoes, more than anything else perhaps, represent the Penny ideal of Quality; a Quality that goes farther than mere surface prettiness and is built deep down into the merchandise itself.

CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER—

Once more we resume the tasks which we so gladly laid aside three months ago. Many new things have been added to the building during the summer, including battleship linoleum on the second and third floors, and fixtures for lighting our pictures. Mr. Richardson and Mr. Carter have been added to our faculty. Mr. Richardson is filling the vacancy of Mr. Maybee, who has accepted a position in Mount Pleasant Normal. Our football team has made a good start by defeating Rockford in the opening game by a score of 26-0. The second game was also a great victory for us. We defeated Coopersville by a 29-0 score. The thirtieth of this month marked the date of the annual reception for the new Sophomore class. Debating is again among our classes and German has been restored.

OCTOBER—

The band is again the pride of the school. They are adding a great deal of pep to our football games. The teachers enjoyed a steak roast at Ottawa Beach—a large crowd attended. The Athletic Sisters held a slumber party at Boter's cottage. Everyone reported a good time. Captain Tysse's men met defeat in the Kalamazoo Central game by a score of 14-12, but tied with Benton Harbor. We were victorious in a 12-6 game with Grand Rapids South; tied with Ionia.

NOVEMBER—

American Educational Week was celebrated by various speeches and programs. A poster contest was announced for this week to find suitable slogans for the day being celebrated. Once more we were defeatd by Grand Haven by a score of 6-0, thus losing the trophy given by Huizenga's Jewelry store. Our last home game ended in a scoreless tie with St. Joseph. The musical, "Captain Crossbones," proved a huge success.

DECEMBER—

The debaters were victorious over Grand Haven, which is promising way to start the season. Members of the Hi-Y attended the Older Boys' Conference at Kalamazoo. Holland was victorious in their last football game of the season, defeating Kalamazoo Normal High. The Art Club enjoyed a dance at the Literary Club.

JANUARY—

We again distributed baskets among the poor for the Christmas holidays. The Exchange Club gave a banquet for the football men and their dads at the Warm Friend Tavern. Grand Rapids South was defeated by Coach Hinga's men. Five members of the Blue Triangle, accompanied by Miss E. Hoekje, attended the Girl Reserve Conference held at Lansing. Friday ,the thirteenth, proved fatal to the Holland five when Grand Haven downed them by a 25-12 victory. We triumphed over Kalamazoo Central.

FEBRUARY—

Eighty-five Sophs entered Senior High and were initiated in the proper manner. Knights of Pythias presented the school with a bronze tablet of Lincoln's famous Gettysburg address. We lost the South High game but defeated Kalamazoo Central and St. Joseph. Hinga's men lost to Benton Harbor, avenging themselves by swamping Kalamazoo Normal High.

MARCH—

High School was inhabited by many freakish looking individuals on Senior day. The "Admirable Crichton" was given with overwhelming success. Athenaeum entertained with a dance at the Women's Literary Club and Dnalloh Hgih followed suit a week later. Many new records were made in track. Dad Eliot gave an inspiring talk to the student body March 22. Spring vacation started March 23. All weary school tasks were laid aside for a week of fun.

APRIL—

School was resumed again April 2 for two and one-half months of hard work, but it won't be long until the good old swimming hole will be frequently visited by members of Holland High, so keep your spirits high, ye fellow classmen. Juniors and Seniors joined in a body of one for an evening of mirth and laughter. Miss Anthony worked with untiring effort to produce orators for the George E. Kollen Public Speaking contest.

MAY—

Oh! ye glorious month of May, how slyly you slip through the open windows to catch us unawares and tease us out to the woods and lakes where perfume fills the air. The caucus was a colorful event, tags of all shapes, sizes and descriptions announced their respective candidate. Election day dawned with many a nervous office seeker worrying about all the promises he had to fulfill if elected. The class of 1928 wishes the new council the best of success. On the eve of election day, Kappa Delta held its annual bust. Sigma Chi followed a week later.

JUNE—

June—the month when the heavy fetters of school toils are lifted from our shoulders for three months of frolic in Nature's playground. Class picnics started the ball of "Good Time" rolling and the Dnalloh Hgih banquet was the last ten pin to be knocked down. Baccalaureate and Graduation holds for us a strange reality. We will no longer tread the now golden stairs of Holland High. Dear Holland High, with sorrow we tear ourselves away, but with pleasant memories of the four years we spent under thy lofty portals.

TRUE—YES

Mr. Hinga: "What were Webster's last words?"

Adelia B.: "Zymosis, Zymotic, Zymurgy."

THIS REALLY HAPPENED

Miss Van Dyke after handing out a list of names of different objects, on which her students were to write a theme, said, "Now, Kenneth, on what do you want to write a theme?"

Kenneth Gustafson replied: "On paper."

Now, fellow students, just a word about the jokes and humor which have appeared in this issue of the "BOOMERANG." If your name is not found in the columns, I'm sorry, and if it is, but to your dislike, then also, I'm sorry, but let's remember it's all in fun.

Some of the jokes are good, some are not, some may be old, and some not so old, but above all we did what we thought would please YOU. Some of the jokes may be very old by the time you now see them, but remember that at one time they were new, and that time was about six months ago, when these jokes were handed in.

Thanks.

THE JOKE EDITOR.

Steketee-Van Huis Again

Again we have had the pleasure to work with the Boomerang Staff of the Holland High School in the preperation and presentation of this Annual.

We invite you to visit our plant at any time, to show you the "Work Shop" in which this annual was produced.

Feel free to call us on any details you may be confronted by. We will help you to the best. Just as we hope we have done in interpreting the true spirit of the class of 1928.

Sincerely

Steketee-Van Huis

It has been a pleasure to work with the 1928 Boomerang Staff.

We hope that our efforts to help interpret and reflect in these pages, the true spirit of Holland High, have been successful.

As we know that each picture in this book will bring back happy memories of your school days, we have taken infinite pains to make faithful reproductions.
